HONGKONG, 11TH JULY, 1881.

Chinese Emigration to the Australian Colonies via Hongkong, has for a considerable time past caused our Government a great deal of anxiety and trouble. The subject is one of such wide spread importance, affecting the vital interests of so many different communities, and which has raised in Australia so many difficulties between opposing classes, that the greatest possible circumspection on the part of our local government, in carrying out the conditions of the Ordinances regulating Chinese Emigration from Hongkong, has been necessitated. From the days of the infamous coolie traffic up to the present time, the eyes of the many philanthropic societies established in various parts of the world for the purpose of preventing abuses of a similar character, not only to Chinese but to other native races, have been steadfastly fixed on Hongkong as one of the great outlets of China, and it is quite certain that any infringement of, or deviation from the law, either sanctioned or permitted by the Executive of this colony would have called forth remonstrances of a character, from these influential bodies, backed up by public opinion, which no English Government could have ignored. It is quite a common practice here, as doubtless it is in other parts of the globe, to write and speak of the Exeter Hall philanthropists in terms of the greatest contempt. Whether the gentlemen who interest themselves so much in the welfare of uncivilised nations deserve such opprobrious treatment is altogether a matter of opinion; but that, in their own way they have done a deal of good is beyond question. No right thinking man would defend the now happily defunct Macao coolie trade, although even that abominable traffic in human beings existed for a considerable time, without greatly shocking that portion of the community who were commercially interested in the speculation. What was called the unjust treatment of Messrs. Olyphant & Co. by the Government in the well-known "Perusia" business a few years back, caused a great deal of commotion here, and excited much sympathy for that firm. What real grounds existed for that sympathy time has clearly shown. There is no doubt whatever that the Nemesis, otherwise the Perusia, was merely the forerunner of what was intended to be a renewal of the coolie slave trade on a large scale, but under another name, between the South of China and the South American Republics. Recent accounts from Peru of the treatment the Chinese in that country have lately experienced vividly recall to mind the very worst days of negro slavery in the Southern States of the American Republic, and give us reason to be thankful that the action of this Government probably prevented thousands upon thousands of Chinese laborers from suffering similar degradation and cruelties; and in many instances a violent death.

The Chinese emigration from this port to the Australian Colonies resembles in many respects the emigration to San Francisco, and the results to both countries have generally coincided. One great difference, however, must be noted. Emigration to America, according to the laws of that country (vide Sections 2,158 and 2,162 of the Revised Statutes of the United States), is supposed to be free and voluntary in all respects; that to Australia has been tainted to a considerable extent by what is known as the contract system, which, with us in Hongkong under certain conditions, is perfectly legal. According to Mr. Seward, ex-Minister of the United States at Peking, in 1866 a set of regulations regarding contract emigration was drawn up by the British and French Ministers at the Chinese capital, which received the approval of the Chinese Government. These regulations consisted of twenty-two articles, and were meant to insure regularity and fair dealing in the engagement of Chinese under contract in foreign countries. The seventh article which contains the gist of the regulations, reads as follows:—

"The contracts shall specify;—

1st.—The place of destination, and the length of the engagement.

2nd.—The right of the emigrant to be conveyed back to his own country, and the sum which shall be paid at the expiration of his contract to cover the expenses of his voyage home, and that of his family, should they accompany him.

3rd.—The number of working days in the year, and the length of each day's work.

4th.—The wages, rations, clothing, and other advantages promised to the emigrant.

5th.—Gratuitous medical attendance.

6th.—The sum which the emigrant agrees to set aside out of his monthly wages for the benefit of persons to be named by him, should he desire to appropriate any sum to such a purpose."

These regulations, based upon a set of rules which had been in force at Canton, under local sanction, for years, in the engagement of Coolies for the British Colonies, although apparently admirably suited to meet the requirement of the contract emigration of the present day, unfortunately were not approved of by the English and French Governments, and no general law has since been enacted, similar to that of the United States, to provide for the thorough examination of proposed emigrants, in order to determine whether they are voluntary emigrants or not. Hongkong has certain local regulations which apply, but as these hardly go far enough in many exceptional cases, and are not supplemented, so far as we are aware, by legislation in Australia, it is unquestionable that they in numerous instances fail to have the desired effect. Ordinance 5 of 1874 provides for what is termed a double medical inspection of all emigrants under contracts of service, on shore before embarkation by the authorised medical officer, and afterwards on board the ship; and the Emigration Officer is forbidden to grant the certificate required by "The Chinese Passengers Act 1855," unless he is satisfied that such examinations have been duly made, or dispensed with by the sanction of the Governor. It is further ordained that no contract emigrant can embark without a permit from the Emigration Officer, who is forbidden to issue the same unless he has proof that the emigrant has undergone on shore the medical examination prescribed by law. Passenger brokers are bound under heavy penalties to give notice to the Emigration Officer, of every contract entered into with emigrants furnishing full particulars as to name, age, sex, and name of ship, and have to attend before him for the purpose of delivering the contract tickets to the passengers, the Emigration Officer in each case explaining to the emigrant the true intent and meaning of such contract.

Ordinance 5 of 1874 (Part I. sections 4 and 5), clearly defines the difference in law which exists between a Chinese passenger ship carrying free emigrants, and one carrying emigrants under contract of service. The owners or charterers of every Chinese passenger ship must give notice to the Emigration Officer that such a vessel has been laid on the berth for the conveyance of Chinese emigrants, specifying name of ship, destination and probable time of departure; and in all cases where such intending emigrants are under contracts of service, the dépôt where these emigrants are to be lodged before embarkation must be stated. No Chinese passenger ship can proceed to sea without a license from the Governor, for which application has to be made before the vessel is laid on the berth, or before any dépôt can be opened for the reception of Chinese emigrants, by the owners or charterers, who must furnish all particulars that may be required relating to the intended voyage, emigration, &c. It shall be lawful, however, for the Governor in Council to exempt from the above regulation, any mail steamers, or other vessels which are subject to the provisions of "The Chinese Passengers Act, 1855," provided that the Chinese passengers proceeding in such vessels be free emigrants and under no contract of service whatever."

The troubles which at different times have occurred in Hongkong between the Owners or Charterers of Chinese passenger ships and the local government, could hardly have been avoided in the existing state of the law, and from the very imperfect manner in which the different sections of the Ordinance have been applied. The past and present feeling in Australia against the Chinese is a subject which enters largely into the proper discussion, and consideration of the attitude which our Government ought to assume towards the general question of Chinese emigration to the Colonies. There are other matters too which require attention, besides the influence which this species of commercial enterprise has on our mercantile relations with the Colonies, such as the views of the Chinese Government, and the actual wishes of the emigrants themselves.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The American bark Mabel left the Aberdeen Dock yesterday morning.

We learn that the O. S. N. Company's steamer Laertes, from Liverpool, left Singapore for this port on the morning of the 8th instant.

The Sheldrake, 4, composite gunboat, Lieutenant and Commander Marcus L. Bridger, left here for Hoihow yesterday.

We would direct the attention of property holders to the notice in the Gazette, signed by the Acting Colonial Treasurer, which intimates that the Crown Rents for the half year ended 24th June, must be paid into the Treasury on or before the 16th instant.

The attention of the Home Government has for some time past been devoted to the state of defence of the Colonial harbours, and we understand that Colonel Crossman, C.M.G., Royal Engineers, Inspector of Submarine Defences, accompanied by Lieutenant Russell, R.E., is now on his way to the East on an inspectional visit, under instructions from the Inspector General of Fortifications. His tour will embrace Hongkong, Singapore, Penang, Labuan, &c.

The Mattie Taylor Troupe gave their second entertainment on Saturday evening in the Garrison Theatre, to a well filled house, when a complimentary benefit was given to Miss Mattie on the occasion of her birthday. The entertainment commenced with a light amusing sketch entitled the "Kitchen Opera," in which Mr. and Mrs. Taylor introduced a duet on the banjo, and Mrs. Taylor sings the Mocking Bird, which gives an opportunity for a fair representation of that rara avis by Mr. Taylor. Miss Mattie followed in a few lively character changes which gave general satisfaction to the audience. The stage was next occupied by two amateurs of the Inniskilling Fusiliers, Corporal McEvoy and Private Sands, in a character song and dance, the "Irish Carman." Their get-up was remarkably good, and the Dublin Carman was portrayed with much truthfulness. The two amateurs in this and in the "Irish Reeper" who had come over to "cut the harvest down" took the audience "intoxicated with them," provoking an encore which was responded to by a lively Irish jig. After a short interval "Our Boarding School" was placed on the stage in which Mattie shone in her specialities as a serio comic. The piece was short but the principal character, Angelina (a Mischievous Miss), fully occupied the attention of the house and several times secured rounds of applause. The entertainment throughout gave apparent satisfaction to the audience and Mattie has had a very successful benefit. Colonel and Mrs. Geddes, and a good number of the officers of the regiment were present.

The Fokien came out of the Cosmopolitan Dock yesterday afternoon, and the M.M. Co.'s s.s. Menzaleh took her place in the dock this morning.

We are requested to state that, weather permitting, the band of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers will play in the Botanic Gardens tomorrow evening between nine and half-past ten o'clock.

On Saturday afternoon whilst the s.s. Ping-on was being towed to the Cosmopolitan Dock by the Fame, a sudden squall caught her and drove her right on the bow of the s.s. Brisbane. The Australian steamer suffered no material injury; but the Ping-on had her rail broken, davits bent; several boats stove in, and her house on deck considerably damaged. The Fame afterwards towed her over to the Cosmopolitan Dock, where she is now moored at the buoy, undergoing repairs.

What might have been a rather alarming accident occurred at the Kowloon Docks on Saturday night. The Steamboat Company's s.s. Powah, which has been undergoing rather extensive repairs to her boilers and engines during the past fortnight, whilst lying at the Dock Company's buoy in Hongkong Bay was struck by a very heavy squall, and, dragging her moorings, was eventually driven ashore landing on a muddy bank close to the Docks. Yesterday the Kinkiang and the tug Fame proceeded to her assistance, and after considerable exertions succeeded in getting the "floating town" safely back to the buoy. Beyond a few superficial abrasions, the vessel had sustained no damage whatever, and was probably a good deal safer lying comfortably on the mud, than she would have been at the buoy in such squally weather.

A boat containing six Chinamen was capsized in the harbour during the strong wind blowing on Saturday afternoon. The boat belonged to the steamer Thales, and put off from that ship with a coil of rope with the object apparently of making fast to one of Messrs. Douglas Lapraik and Company's buoys. They had scarcely got more than half way when the strong wind and heavy swell then on proved too much for her and she got upset, but as there was fortunately plenty of assistance at hand the men were soon picked up, and suffered nothing further than an involuntary bath.

In a Cricket Match at Perth last May between Stanley House School and St. Johnstone, Lang, the School professional, accomplished one of the most remarkable bowling feats on record. He took five wickets in an over of six balls.

LATEST COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

Monday, July 11th, 1881.
One o'clock P.M.

As usual on Saturday afternoons no business of importance was transacted in shares after we went to press, and the rain this morning has apparently damped the courage of both buyers and sellers. One lot of Hongkong Fire changed hands on Saturday at 990, and that may be considered the present market value of the stock. Hotels rose from 97½ to par, and we noted a few sales at the latter quotation. These shares have an upward tendency, and we shall expect to see them standing still higher before the end of the week. No more Docks could be secured at 55, sellers holding out firmly for 56, cash, and only a very few transfers were effected. There are still buyers of Banks at 104, but as was the case on Saturday there are none on offer at the price. The China Sugar Refining Co.'s Stock is on offer at $175 per share, but, so far as we have been able to ascertain, has not been made the medium of any business. Other stocks remain unchanged.

SHIPPING REPORTS.

The German steamer Drutus reports left Singapore on the 2nd July, in the beginning had Southerly winds, last two days Northerly winds.

The British steamer Thales, left Poochow July 5th, and experienced fresh Southerly winds and fine clear weather. Left Amoy, 6th July, with moderate S.W. winds and fine weather.

Left Swatow, 8th July, light breeze from North to N.E. with heavy South and S.E. swell, shifting into East with freshening breeze as we neared Hongkong. In Foochow, steamers Achilles, Brisbane, and Europe. In Amoy, steamer Horseguards. In Swatow, steamers Bellona, Vortigern, Tamsui, Par-nambuco and Swatow.

The British steamer Tantallon reports fine weather throughout, strong N.E. winds from Paracels to Port.

The British steamer Brisbane reports left Pagoda 7th July, at 3.30 p.m., and arrived in Hongkong at 1.25 p.m., 9th July. Light Northerly winds to Breaker Point, and fresh N.E. winds to arrival. Passed H. I. R. M. Transport, Europa, off the Lam-ocks; the steamer Malacca off Pedro Blanco, and the Meath, off the White Dogs, bound North.

The British steamer Carisbrooke reports fine weather with high swell from S.E. by East.

The British steamer Plainmiller, reports left Saigon for Hongkong, with general cargo on July 5th, at 9 a.m., passed Cape St. James 3 p.m. the same day passed S.S. Thornhill, off Cape Taiwan at 5 p.m., experienced fresh S.W. winds until the afternoon of the 6th, then in Lat. 11° 57' N. Long. 109° 36' E. met with light winds varying from N. to E. with occasional rain showers.

At 11 p.m. sighted a comet bearing S.W. and travelling very fast to the N.E. Noon on the 8th, Lat. 15° 22' N. Long. 110° 19' E. a breeze sprang up from N.E. increasing gradually to a gale, with heavy sea, ship labouring heavily and shipping large quantities of water. July 9th gale showing no signs of moderating, Lat. 21° 00' N. Long. 112° 57' E. ship still labouring very heavily until the morning of the 10th July when the gale began to abate. At 4.30 a.m. sighted the Gap Rock bearing East 7.30, passed Ling Ting Island 9 a.m., Green Island 9.10, moored ship, being 5 days from anchorage to anchorage.

The British steamship Hardwick reports left Shanghai at 6 a.m. on the 6th instant, and experienced light Northerly winds and fine weather to Breaker Point; thence to port strong N.E. winds and heavy squalls with high sea; lost a great portion of deck load, consisting of oil and fruit during the night.

The British steamer Diamante reports light winds and fine weather to Lamock, thence to port fresh S. increasing N.E. gale with heavy sea, at 7.15 p.m., 9th July, anchored inside Ly-e-moon Pop.

The British steamer Penedo reports light S.W.S. winds and light rain to Parallels of Paracel Islands, then encountered hard gale from N.N.E., veering to East and E.S.E. with very high sea, lasting 24 hours.

The German steamer Welle reports variable and squally weather to port.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL.
To the Editor of the
"Hongkong Telegraph."

SIR,—The Roman Catholic Cathedral, with the exception of its façade, and the pillars outside, which I imagine are supposed to produce a classical effect, but support nothing, has actually no claims to architectural beauty; and if we come to the question of comfort, the old building is open to even less recommendation. The windows are low and small, and seem to be so arranged as to admit a maximum of sun with a minimum of air, so that while the hats of the ladies may at times be seen fulgent with the fierce rays of a midsummer sun, all the appliances of fidgetty fans scarcely secure sufficient air to breathe with comfort. Yesterday the congregation had another illustration of an imperfection, connected with the Cathedral never before suspected, namely, that any severe rain makes such a clatter upon the roof that it is utterly impossible to hear a single word from the pulpit. The pews are so few that any lady who happens to arrive a little late has to sit in the passage, exposing her dress to be trodden on by those who pass by.

I fail to see that the inconveniences complained of are in any way beyond the power of remedy, and trust the Very Rev. Father Burghignoli will exert his well known zeal to remedy the inconveniences so justly complained of.

Yours faithfully,

A LADY.

[It would be useless to suggest any improvement for the present building. The inconveniences complained of by our correspondent will be of short duration, as we learn that Bishop Raimondi has gone home for plans, etc., for a new cathedral which will soon be erected in one of the best parts of the town.—Ed. H. T.]

WINNING HIM BACK.—One of the travellers for a new fresh dry-goods house recently arrived in a town in the interior of the state to find that one of his best customers was about to transfer his custom to a Boston house. "Didn't we always do well by you?" asked the New Yorker, at he sat down for an explanation. "Yes, I believe so." "Didn't we ship goods promptly?" "Yes." "And did we ever press you in a pinch?" "No." "Did you get lower prices at the Boston house?"

"No, I can't say as I did." "They can't understand why you should leave our house all of a sudden after buying of us for several years." "I know that some explanation is due, and I will make one," replied the merchant. "You know that I attend church?"

"Yes, and so do I." "Do you? I didn't know that. I am looked upon as a Christian." "So am I. I've got the date of my baptism right here in this book!" "Is that so! Well, our church is in need of repairs. We were talking it over the other day when the Boston drummer was in here, and he at once subscribed 10 dol."

"Ten dollars! why, that's only two kegs of nails! Put me down for 30 dol. cash, a new silk hat for every season, and suit of clothes for the minister." "Do you really mean it?" "Of course I do, and if that two-cent Christian from Boston dares to sign another five I'll send you down a 600 dol. church organ and pay a man 500 dol. per year to play it. We are a house which never makes a great display of gospel hymns and religious tracts, but when a Boston drummer bluffs we show our religious hands, and rake in the pot every time." The merchant will still continue to deal with the New York house.—Wall-street News.

A RE-DISTRIBUTION of seats in the House of Commons has evidently taken place without the knowledge and sanction of Parliament. We find that in a breach of promise case heard in the Queen's Bench Division on Thursday, the defendant, a tobaccoist, signed himself in most of his letters to the fair plaintiff as "M. P. for Westminster-bridge-road." We have diligently searched through "Dodd," but failed to find this seat.—Sportsman.

Monthly Customers taken at reduced rates.

RAZORS MOST CAREFULLY RE-SET.

Mr. MOORE begs to recommend his GOGO SHAMPOO WASH to the public as unrivalled by any preparation ever produced for promoting the growth of the hair. The basis of this compound is made of soap root; the natives of the Philippine Islands never use anything else for washing their hair; they are never found bald, and it is quite common to see the females with hair from 5 to 6 feet long. By constantly using this Shampoo WASH as directed, you will never be bald. The proprietor offers the Wash to the public entirely confident that by its restorative properties it will without fail arrest decaying hair. It completely eradicates scurf, dandruff, and cures all diseases of the scalp. It does not contain any poisonous drugs. By its cooling properties it allays the itching and fever of the scalp, which is the great cause of people losing their hair.

Mr. Moore has succeeded in being able to put this wash up in bottles without allowing it to ferment, and he will guarantee it to keep any length of time in any climate.
